

Leadership in Action: Managing Change and Risk Online Seminar

Aim:

To provide participants with essential insights and practical tools for effectively managing organizational change and business risk in today's dynamic professional environment.

Outline

Day 1: Managing Change

Topics to be covered:

- Factors that influence change: environmental factors and internal factors
- Approaches to change management: discussion of theoretical models, leadership and the role of stakeholders (internal and external)
- Case Study

Day 2: Managing Risk

Topics to be covered:

- Types of business risk
- Methods for identifying and quantifying risk (RAID method-risks, assumptions, issues and dependencies)
- Case Study

Leadership in Action: Managing Change and Risk

Online Seminar

Learning Outcomes

- Understand the importance of managing change across sectors
- Identify key drivers of organizational change
- Explore basic change management models and stakeholder roles
- Recognize common types of business risk and
- Learn basic tools for identifying and assessing risk (RAID)
- Apply insights through real-world case studies

Ideal for

- Professionals seeking to enhance their leadership and strategic thinking skills
- Executives involved in organizational change or project development
- Students and recent graduates looking to build a solid foundation in change and risk management and gain insights into real-world business practices

Tutor

Tina Zaharopoulou is an experienced Academic Director and Business Coach with over 25 years in the education and corporate training sectors. She specializes in Business English, Executive Coaching, and professional development training for executives across industries including shipping, finance, and pharmaceuticals. Tina holds an MSc in TESOL from California State University and a BA in Political Science from the University of California. She has designed and delivered tailored courses for professionals, with a focus on soft skills such as leadership, change management, and communication. She has also advised Executive MBA students on modules including Leadership, Strategic Decision-Making, and Managing Change. She is currently the Academic Director at Benefit Language Programmes and Services in Athens, where she also works as a trainer and coach for high-level professionals and multinational companies.

Details

Dates: 12 & 13 June 2025

Duration: 2 online sessions

Time: 19:30 – 21:00 (EET)

Method: Online (live sessions via Zoom)

Participation Fee: 200 EUR